Participants: School of Mines, Quality of Life Plus

Equipment Test #2

This is our second test of the adaptive shooting equipment from engineering students at the Colorado School of Mines. It will be mounted to a track chair to create a real world experience. We all take a turn at some trap shooting. Overall it performs well. There are a few small adjustments that have to be made, so the students will take it back to the lab and make the adjustments. Our next test is scheduled for the beginning of April. A big thanks to the Colorado School of Mines, QL+ and Valhalla Hunt Club.
