Art Class - Narrative Collage

We had a great turnout at Art Students League of Denver for their Narrative Collage class! This was the first class back with them since their extended pandemic hiatus. Deb Rosenbaum, our instructor, went through the process step by step. The supplies were handed out and everyone began to work on a collage. The instructor encouraged everyone to use their collage to tell a story or a memory of a personal experience. At the end of the class, each participant shared the story behind their collage. It was a wonderful class and we are so happy to be back! Thank you to Deb Rosenbaum and the Art Students League of Denver!
