Today's class was on how to make artists books, which is a model for creating journals and drawing notebooks. We learn how to make a book out of a piece of paper. Next comes the process of coloring, sketching, or painting of the book which involves paper, scissors, paint brushes, crayons, markers, pencils and other instruments and color. There is no right or wrong, just fun creating a journal.

We have a delicious barbecue dinner coming from Jim N' Nicks. It's been a fun and educational class, a big thanks to all who made it possible.
